"Jeferson Cotrim is an Electrical Engineer graduated in 2008 from FEI (Faculty of Industrial Engineering - Brazil). He is a Specialist in Computer Networks and Telecommunications at INATEL - 2012 (National Institute of Telecommunications - Brazil). He holds the title of Master (2017) and currently holds a PhD in Information Engineering by the Federal University of ABC - Brazil.

He is currently studying communication protocols for the Internet of Things, especially routing protocols.

He worked for 3 years at Ericsson developing networking and consulting activities. He worked for 2 years at Alcatel-Lucent as an intern in the area of technical courses."